The annual fee is $1,500/year, which includes software maintenance for up to 25 upgrade licenses of Media Composer, Pro Tools, Sibelius, etc. These licenses renew each year with your continued status as an ALP. This software support option is exclusive to our ALPs and based on the school offering official training & certification for those Avid applications. If the school has more than 25 stations, additional license upgrades can be included at a scaled rate. The ALP program includes curriculum and certification in audio and music production, live sound, game audio, music notation, film and video editing as well as broadcast journalism. Once the partnership is established, we can easily expand it to include curriculum and certification from other disciplines. For some schools this creates an opportunity to share costs across multiple departments. The ALP program also requires establishing and maintaining Avid Certified Instructor status. This training takes place directly with Avid, either at an Avid office (such as Burlington, MA or Burbank, CA) or on-site at the school. With multiple instructors, onsite training on campus is often the best option. A 5day certification class for instructors is required to offer each level of an Avid application. Each workshop will establish the core certification at that level, along with Avid Certified Instructor (ACI) status for that level.
