An Alarming Trend

And there will be a next time. To give folks an idea of just how much districts have had to rely on referendums in recent years, we compiled a decade of Department of Public Instruction (DPI) data and put them on an interactive map. CLICK ON THE IMAGE below to explore the numbers for yourself. They're really quite staggering (Note: the map will display on mobile devices, but works best when viewed from a desktop browser).
