Getting stakeholder input provides essential data which will inform subsequent parts of the project. We will do this in two ways- via focus groups and surveys. TregoED will conduct five (5) focus groups with representatives from each of 19 schools. Subsequently, a survey will be developed and distributed to teachers at the 19 selected schools. The project team will review both sources of data and identify general themes surrounding retention that emerge retention issue. Deliverable 2. Identify significant Contributing Factors to Low Retention Rate Clearly there are many possible causes to a low or declining retention rate. In order to target solutions and avoid ineffective action, it is critical to get a clearer scope of what contributing factors or causes are most influential. Accurate date will help rule out some causes and identify which contributing causes most need to be addressed. Deliverable 3. Consider Possible Solutions and Develop Implementation Plan During the course of focus groups and data analysis, there will undoubtedly be many ideas that have been generated on how to improve retention.
